

International College of Metaphysical Theology

Admissions Office - 8000 N.E. Parkway, Suite 200 – Vancouver, WA 98662

We are very happy to welcome you as a new degree-program student of the International College of Metaphysical Theology.

This mailing will include several important documents pertaining to your Bachelors Degree studies, along with a portion of your required-reading textbooks. Please note that some of your textbooks will be sent from third-party suppliers and will arrive separately.

The first text book you will read (which is included with this Welcome Package) is called Metaphysical Primer: A Guide to Understanding Metaphysics, by Jane L. Robertson and Deborah L. Hughes. Your first writing assignment will come from this book. As with all written assignments throughout the program, we are not looking for a book report as such, but rather what you learned and felt as you were reading the required books.

Other items in this Welcome Package include:

Supplementary Reading Material: These supplementary reading items are solely for your learning benefit; no papers are due on those readings.

Recommended Reading / Web Resources: We have included a list of recommended books and other media in various Metaphysical categories, as well as a collection of web site links which you may find to be useful resources both during and after the program.

Course Synopsis: An outline of the subjects covered over the course of your Bachelors Degree program.

Tuition Contract: This contract outlines the various tuition payment options and must be signed and returned to the school promptly upon the start of your program.

Should you need help with any part of your readings or assignments, please contact us and someone will reply to you either by e-mail or phone. We at ICMT want to make certain that your studies and assignments are understood so you can progress with ease through the program. We are always here to help.

Again, welcome! May your journey be filled with light and love.

Sincerely,

Diane Grant, D.D.
President
